COMMITTEE

White Christmas at the Methodist Church

Sunday morning a very impressive White Christmas service was observed at the Methodist Sunday school, at which time, a large offering of gifts was made, together with considerable cash donation, to be distributed among the unfortunates of the town whose allotment of Christmas cheer would have been missing.

A committee was formed to distribute these gifts, more than two hours of this mission of cheer, being consumed by them. The inmates of the county farm were among those remembered, and the large batch of fruit, and candy were received by these with demonstrations of gratitude.

After the ceremony of depositing the gifts in the white-covered manger, a very effective cantata, reproducing the birth of Christ and the announcement to the shepherds on the Judean hills was presented by the Juniors of the school. The gleaming star and the oriental costumes of the participants made up an impressive scene, which added to by the Christmas carols sung in the sweet young voices of these young ladies, made the presentation one to be remembered.

Presbyterian Sunday School Celebrates Christmas

A pretty and effective program in commemoration of the Christmas season was carried out at the Presbyterian Sunday school Sunday morning in readings and the singing of Christmas carols by the members of the school. An unusual and impressive feature of the exercises was the burning of the Christmas candles to represent the light of Jesus and his disciples in the world. A large red candle beamed out, representative of the glowing light that Jesus shed, and twelve smaller ones, that of the twelve disciples who carried on his work after he was taken back to heaven from earth. This was a unique and inspiring plan by which to bring out the light that the birth of Christ brought into the world, and the whole program was such as to fill the audience with reverence for the sacredness of the season.
